Crypsis is an exhibition of experimental new works by three Western Australian artists, Stephanie Reisch, Jon Tarry and Joshua Cobb-Diamond. Sound, drawing, sculpture, and digital media are employed to test and expand on notions of permanence, visibility and ancient forces.

Opening Night Saturday 25 July, 4-6pm
Exhibition runs from 23 July - 8 August

Crypsis uses Augmented Reality (AR) technology as a counterpoint for the physical artworks, combining graphics, sound, and animation to construct 'Dusk to Dark', an invisible sculpture that performs within the visual arena.
